
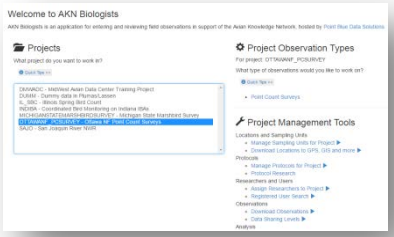
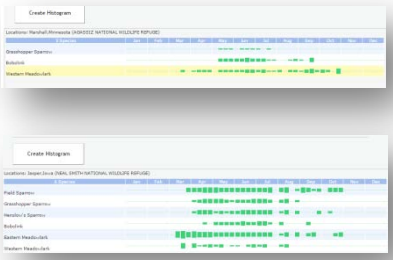
Why MWADC?

The Midwest Avian Data Center (MWADC) provides the latest technology and expertise for managing and exploring bird monitoring data to support avian conservation in the Midwest.





Manage Your Own Data

Use MyMWADC to:

- select sampling design/ protocol, proof data, and control access to data.
- have multiple observers enter data online.
- summarize, analyze and export results into reports and websites.

Help Birds Most in Need

- Determine whether you are in a focal landscape for a bird species in need of conservation action.

Get a Report Card

- Determine the value of your lands relative to the surrounding landscape (i.e., do you have higher densities of birds than other landowners?)
- Compare pre- and post-treatment data.

http://data.pointblue.org/partners/mwadc